TERRIBLE COLLISION AT SEA

London, 22nd—A meeting of Unionist members held at the Marquis of Waterford's residence approved petition to Government to abolish the Irish Viceroyalty giving the post to a Secretary of State, and establishing a Royal residence in Dublin. A deputation was named to present the petition.

Lord Salisbury, speaking to members of the Primrose League, said that the alliance between the Gladstonians and Parnellites was moribund; and that Ireland had found peace better than disorder.

Vienna, 22nd.—Count Kalonky has publicly warned Prince Nicholas of Montenegro against assuming a passive attitude toward the project of putting Prince Karagiosgevich on the Servian throne.

Fifty-one people have perished in the floods in Bohemia.

Paris, 22nd—Tirard told a deputation of carpenters that he could not interfere in the administration of the Exhibition.

The French Socialists have invited their German brothers to a Congress on July 14th. It is said the French Government will not allow it, and will expell all foreigners who come to join it, even if they are members of the German Reichstag.

Berlin, 22nd—Germany has consented to replace Malietoa on the throne, due to the preservering efforts of the North Americans. Another difficulty has arisen about claims of German-Americans, which, if they alone are paid, must be merely nominal; but the Germans maintain the contrary, as the Samoese have always been the aggresors in fights with the Germans, and the native partizans of Malietoa are responsible for the barbarous treatment of beheading German sailors. The matter will be referred to the full Conference.

The miners at Dartmund have again struck because the masters have not kept their promises. A monster meeting was held yesterday.

Paris, 22nd—President Carnot received Reid, new United States Minister, who said there was nothing that could disturb a century of friendship between the two republics, and which would last for ever.

President Carnot replied that there were special bonds of union between the two countries, and referred to the coincidence of date of the meeting of the States General and the inauguration of Washington as another tie.

London, 22nd.—The steamers German Emperor for Bilbao, and Beresford for Bombay, collided yesterday. The first sank. Thirty people drowned.

MINISTER VARELA'S BILLS.

HIS VIEWS ON A GUARANTEE AND CONVERSION FUND.

Society here has developed within the last three years with a rapidity which has not been equalled even in the great Republic of the North. We are now an immense mass of attraction for large bodies of men who literally invade our rich and fertile soil, a soil which only yesterday was the exclusive domain of the idle savage, or a weary desert the silence of which had never been disturbed by the voice of civilization. The sphere of action of the Argentine people has been extended by hundreds of millions of acres, and our railways, which stretch in every direction, continue to extend that sphere in most wonderful manner. Man with his industry, and his capital, and his enterprise, settles everywhere, and he needs elasticity for his elements of action, whilst he imparts elasticity himself to everything he touches, to real-estate to production, consumption, trade even luxury which is the exuberance of welfare.

In the vertiginous march of the republic everything is elastic, and every social element must essentially be elastic to keep pace with the movement. Foremost amongst these elements is money, a social agent which gathers in its value the value of everything and serves to measure the value of everything.

It is consequently necessary that the amount of money be sufficient not only to facilitate all transactions, but also to allow such transactions to be effected amongst the scattered groups of our population, and besides to contribute towards the accumulation of the savings of those hundreds of thousands of immigrants who, by the natural laws of sociology, do not place immediate confidence in the country. To meet the requirements of money and render its circulation elastic, the Free Banking Act was sanctioned, and you know that under the new provisions, there is a circulation of over $150,000,000 by 15 banks whose aggregate capital amounts to $200,000,000. The Act is in perfect harmony with the requirements of progress. But our paper-money is necessarily of a local character, and cannot perform the functions of exchange nor respond to the tendency of realizing savings amongst new arrivals who have no confidence for the moment in the country nor in the banks, which gather the savings of human labor. The country, therefore, besides paper money, needs specie.

The question of specie does not depend, as you all know, on the simple will of the legislator. There is no question that has so much disturbed civilized humanity.

In the United States a Congress, to which we have been invited, will meet this year to discuss the question, while another Congress with a similar object is to be held in Europe. The Royal Commission appointed by Her Britannic Majesty has decided that there is one solution for the question—to do away with the supremacy of gold and adopt the bimetallist system. Under such conditions of expectancy I think it prudent not to make radical and definite alterations, and to await the decision arrived at by great nations. But are we to remain idle while awaiting the coming soution? On the contrary, the Executive considers it urgent to adopt some system of a transitory nature. I shall passon to show you the urgency of the case.

The sovereign money of the country is gold, so as to arrive at a normal situation, in which the note would be convertible at sight, it would be necessary to provide the Republic with a sufficient stock of gld to keep pace with the incessant conversion. Is this possible in the present stge of the metallist question? I shall meely, in reply to this question, repeat wha the Royal Commission already alluded to sys: "No metal exists in sufficient quantity to serve as money without creating commercial revolutions."

If Great Brain cannot find sufficient gold for a sole money, how can we with our debts and scattered settlements expect to make gold our only circulating medium, without exposing ourselves to commercial revolutions alluded to by the Royal Commission. It would be impossible for us, even if we were a stationary nation, instead of a people bounding along the road of progress. We are growing so fast that we need to increase our issue of paper, which will require every day a greater stock of specie. Let me call your attention to one fact:

On the 31st December 1887, the number of depositors of amounts under 500 dollars was as follows in the National and Provincial (B. Ayres) Banks:

National Bank 3,050
Provincial Bank:
From $10 to 200..... 12,385
From 200 to 500..... 3,733
21,118 ($4,573,280)

These figures shew that the Provincial Bank with its wide sphere of action and traditional credit, has only 21,118 accounts for deposits under 500 dollars. Now, to form an idea of the bank-notes pocketed by the immigration which flows to our shores, let us suppose that the labour of the 500,000 immigrants landed is worth 50 cents per diem on an average for 300 days of the year. Take the year and a half from Dec. 1887 to June 1889; these immigrants say, earned 50 cents per diem during 450 days. The aggregate earnings would amount to 225 millions dollars.

Let us make allowance on a large scale for everything, and we shall come to the conclusion that these immigrants have saved 67½ millions. Then deduct the deposits (under 500 dollars) made in the National and Provincial banks. Let us even double the actual figures, and we find that they have earned a round 60 millions. Where has that money gone to?

The Interpellation.

DEPUTY PORTELA TACKLES MINISTER VARELA.

THE DEPUTY LECTURES ON POLITICAL ECONOMY.

THE MINISTER'S ELOQUENT REPLY.

HOUSE ADJOURNS: NOBODY A BIT THE WISER.

The precincts of the old Congress-hall were crowded yesterday to listen to Deputy Portela's interpellation and the defence of Minister Varela. Every seat was occupied and the attendance of deputies was much above the average. We noticed in the gallery ex-President Roca, ex-Governor Benegas, bankers, editors and many brokers, the latter specially attracted, as the cause of the interpellation was the suspension of the gold speculation on 'Change.

At quarter to three the Chairman took his seat and the deputies advanced leisurely to their seats in a phalanx. Then came a porter with a table and a pyramid o books which were placed before Deputy Portela. The sight of all these books made the speaker look faint and cast a hue of pallor over the countenances of the deputies.

The order of the day was read, and then the Minister of Finance made his appearance and sat down on the left side of the House, conspicuous as the only occupant in the row of chairs.

Deputy Portela, on whom all eyes were rivetted, then proceeded to attack and question the Minister's decrees. He was speaking for the first time, and knew that he could not hold a candle to the Minister in the way of finance. His object was to refute the Minister's arguments in support of the Government decrees. First of all he seized on the expressions "sale and purchase", "speculation", "gambling", and tried to shew that H.E. had confounded their meanings. He wanted to shew the Minister that value was nothing but the relation between two numbers. Then there was a difference between speculation and gambling, which the Minister evidently did not know. Starting on this speculation, the honorable gentleman endeavoured to prove that the gold sales on the Bolsa could not be considered either as speculation or gambling. He then wandered into other realms, traced the history of man with a bag of sovereigns in the desert, and by spinning out the allegory tried to shew that money was a "thing of price". The honorable deputy then went into history, got as far as the year 1826, when the National Bank was founded. He flatly denied the statement of the Minister that public gold-sales were prohibited in all other countries. He wound up by hoping that, if the decrees be thrown out, the country would have dozens of banks like the Italian, London and River Plate, etc., "because we need gold, gold, gold."

The Minister of Finance then replied, and with great eloquence answered the honourable deputy's remarks. He said:—That he had no advantage over his opponent, as he considered him as good or even a better financier than himself; but he considered his interpellation as quite unnecessary, and even unjust. He did not think that the honourable Deputy would have gone so far as to paint the proposals of the Government in such black colours All men are liable to err. The Executive, and even Congress can make mistakes; the people may be carried away by an impetus more or less justifiable; but there is a wide difference between this and asking the Executive for the why and wherefore of every law it proposes.

There are three independent Powers—the Executive, Congress, and the Bench. If the President violate the Constitution he cannot be interpellated by Congress. The Senate alone can impeach him. The Executive is quite independent of the Chamber. The Minister then referred to the honourable Deputy's arguments: He alluded to the allegory of the man in the desert with a bag of sovereigns, showing that it amounted to nothing; and he challenged the honourable Deputy to quote a single code that authorized the public sale and purchase of gold as money. He quoted Art. 14 of the Constitution, to prove that his decrees were constitutional, and proceeded to show that history was in his favor; and, if the Honourable Deputy maintained the contrary, the tribunals could decide the question.

This brought Deputy Portela on his legs, and he solemnly declared that he would present a Bill to annul all the projects of the Executive. He appealed to the Chamber for support. The House then adjourned in a rather puzzled frame of mind.

New tramways in La Plata are no novelty. The latest concession is asked for an eminent hair-dresser of that city who has got tired of cutting the public, and now wants to carry them.

SIR CHARLES RUSSELL'S SPEECH

THE ROUMANIAN COUP D'ETAT.

ITALY AND ABYSSINIA.

Antibes, April 14th.

On Friday Sir Charles Russell concluded his opening speech for the defence, which occupied four days. It was, without doubt, the finest he ever made, and one of the ablest heard in a British court of justice on record. He began by shewing that the misgovernment of Ireland is one of the blackest pages in modern history, and that a long series of wrongs and oppression, especially in the last 88 years, has been the prolific source of outrage and crime. To a people who have no legal resource or remedy left, the wild justice of revenge seems but natural. When the Royal Commission of 1845 was appointed, under the chairmanship of the Earl of Devon, the Commissioners were so impressed with the sufferings of the tenant farmers that they recommended a wholesale change of system by the adoption of laws calculated to protect the tenants from landlord tyranny. Had such laws been introduced, Sir Charles Russell affirmed, the misery and strife of 44 years would have been averted. But, nothing was done, the Devon Report was condemned as waste paper, and the work of extermination vigorously prosecuted by every Government until the date of Mr. Gladstone's Land Bill. Crime and outrage were of chronic occurrence. Ireland had no hope in constitutional remedies. Public feeling in England was stirred up against Irishmen, and the Times had no better description for O'Connell than a "foul-mouthed ruffian". Even the terrible sufferings of the Irish people evoked no sympathy during the famine of 1847, but rather a note of rejoicing from the Times that they were "going with a vengeance", and that the country would soon be almost depopulated.

Sir Charles Russell then reviewed the Fenian movement and other phases of the Irish question, and pointed to the fact that Mr. Parnell, by uniting his countrymen in a great constitutional agitation, similar to that of the Anti-Corn Law League, achieved a decided triumph over the secret societies and criminal efforts that preceded him. He shewed that crime and outrage were less frequent where the Land League established its sway, and quoted the words of Sir Redvers Buller that "the people looked to the Land League as their salvation". He compared the unspotted lives of Messrs. Parnell, O'Brien, Davitt and Dillon—men who had never betrayed a trust, nor done an unworthy act—with the Pigotts and Houstons, the Soameses and Maguires, who made up the case for the Times. He emphasized the villainy by which Pigott, a starving man and noted scoundrel, was induced by the payment of £1 per day to concoct letters against Mr. Parnell and his friends. He spoke of the late Mr Forster as one of the best-intentioned men who ever entered Dublin Castle, the evil associations of which place were such that before long he was in dealings with Pigott, lending him money to write against Mr. Parnell and giving him letters of recommendation to the Editor of the Nineteenth Century with this express object.

He held up to scorn the iniquitous proceeding of the Attorney-General and his friends in bringing informers and convicts to patch up a ruined case, men who would swear anything, because blood-money was their sole object. He shewed that the conspiracy of which the forged letters were the product was not wholly attributable to Houston and Maguire, men of limited means, but was backed up by persons of fortunes, and that he would prove Pigott to have committed other forgeries before Houston engaged his services. Unhappily the death of Pigott and Maguire, and the destruction by Houston of his correspondence with Pigott, deprived the Court of means for unravelling the threads of this infamous conspiracy. In conclusion, Sir Charles Russell pointed out that Shannon, the assistant of Soames, was aware of Pigott's intention to elude justice, as Pigott in his telegram from Madrid said "send me what Mr. Soames promised me".

The case for the defence will commence on Tuesday, when we may expect to see either Mr. Parnell or Archbishop Walsh in the witness-box, and some of the doings of the Pigotts and Houstons and others exposed to view.

The recent abdication of the King of Servia has been quickly followed by an event of almost as grave importance in Roumania, King Charles having formed a new cabinet at Bucharest of extreme Russian proclivities. This is a complete change of front, by which Russia is enabled to count on the support of the two Danubian Kingdoms, hitherto more or less influenced by Austria. For some time back the Czar has been intriguing, by way of a set-off against his neighbors for the check which he received in Bulgaria, and the success of his schome augurs ill for the peace of South-eastern Europe. In the same proportion that the death of Prince Rudolph was disastrous to Austria, it served to advance the designs of Russia, which were further favored by King Milan's abdication and now receive fresh impulse from the unexpected submission of the Roumanian monarch. Although the position is not identical, it may almost be said that Servia and Roumania will become as subsidiary to the Czar as Bavaria and Wurtemburg are to the Court of Berlin. Under these circumstances it will be difficult if not impossible, for Bulgaria to preserve her independence, as the Czar can at any moment stir up another revolution, to oust Prince Ferdinand.

Whether or not the rest of Europe remain at peace, there is grave danger of a conflict occurring this year or next in the Balkan Peninsula, the result of which no man can foresee. Without any declaration of war Russia may send an army into Bulgaria, and proclaim that country annexed after the manner of Finland, leaving the Bulgarians a quasi-independent constitution. This would be probably followed by a declaration of war on the part of Austria, which would be placed in a critical position as regards Roumania and Servia. The very existence of the Austrian Empire in a great measure hangs on the solution of the Turkish question, which should have been settled at the Berlin Treaty, in 1878.

If the Turk must go across the Dardanelles, the sooner the better. The idea of propping up his wretched government, as Lord Beaconsfield did at Berlin, is an anachronism, as absurd as the Austrians holding Venice after the battle of Solferino. History is full of such mistakes. The efforts of England to hold Anjou and Maine were not merely a waste of time and energy; but drained her of men and money. It was not till after the loss of Calais, the last foothold of English power in France, that the trade and shipping, the wealth and strength of England began to make a figure in the eyes of Europe. The Turk must go, and it is merely a question of how to fill his place.

Hungary is the heir apparent to the throne of Constantinople. She is the only secure rampart against the Russian Bear, as she was of old against the Saracens. Let the Emperor of Austria throw up his German provinces, create Bohemia an independent kingdom, and remove his seat of government from Vienna to the Bosphorus. As Emperor of the East and King of Hungary he may consolidate his throne to the benefit of his House and of Europe. Mr. Gladstone on a memorable occasion defied anyone to put his finger on any part of the map of Europe and say "Here Austria did good." There was much truth in the remark. Austrian rule in Lombardy was almost as bad os British rule in Ireland, although the Austrian jailers neither put Silvio Pellico in convict dress nor cut off his beard. But it is never too late to mend, and Austria, after hanging Count Batthyany and banishing Kossuth, has endeavoured in the last 20 years to act loyally towards Hungary and respect the rights of that country.

Events are hastening rapidly in the East, and unless the Great Powers agree, in spite of Russia, to put Francis Joseph on the chair of Constantine, I fear the Czar will be picquetting his horses in front of Santa Sophia before two years are over.

Telegrams of yesterday from Rome announce the determination of the Crispi Cabinet to send reinforcements to Massowah and make forced marches on the capital of Abyssinia. The enterprise is a costly and perilous one. If successful it cannot be much advantage, if the reverse we may see a repetition of the Hicks-Pasha expedition to the Soudan. Not a single man may ever return to Massowah to tell the tale of destruction. Africa has already swallowed up whole armies. We know not how King Sebastian and his host were annihilated, nor when nor where. The same may be said of Hicks Pasha and his 15,000 followers. Two Italian expeditions of picked troops have been wiped out almost within hearing of Massowah, and now a larger force is to penetrate the mountainous country of the interior.

A more unlucky moment could hardly be chosen, for Italy is at present in the throes of financial confusion. There is a deficit, the amount of which was at first said to be 8 millions sterling, afterwards 10 millions, and finally (but this is probably an exaggeration) 22 millions. The deficit would not be quite so bad if the taxes were not already very high, the ordinary budget reaching 69 millions sterling, which is nearly as much as Great Britain had to bear ten years ago. What makes it still worse is that the country is exceedingly poor, and utterly unable to support such a burden. And, as if further to aggravate the state of affairs, the new duties imposed by France on Italian wines have inflicted tremendous loss on the agricultural interests. But this is not all, for the local and municipal taxes weigh the people down most lamentably. Moreover the public debt is beyond all proportion for a country of limited means. Finally the treaty of alliance with Germany calls for continued expenditure on ships and armaments, which call for new taxes.

The misery among the working-classes is such that numerous riots have occurred in the last two months, and the situation is one that no prudent statesman could view without alarm. Nevertheless, there is no disposition to retrench, but, on the contrary, another African expedition. This seems as foolish as the Tonquin expedition was for France. The present muddle of French finances arises in part from that unhappy enterprise, and much Italian treasure has been wasted in like manner since the occupation of Massowah, four years ago.

What has Italy to gain in Abyssinia? Nothing in the way of commerce, for the Abyssinians, like the Paraguayans, are able to supply their own wants, which are few. Neither would it do to send colonists there, as the climate renders this impossible. But, if nothing is to be gained the best thing to do would be to evacuate Massowah, and call home the troops. That would be, says Signor Crispi, a loss of prestige. Very true, and Italy has up to this gained little prestige, beyond the indisputable fact that her soldiers have behaved with great bravery.

It was certainly a great mistake for Italy to seize Massowah or any other part of the Red Sea coast. Why did she not rather take Tripoli, which was worth something? A country within view of Sicily, suitable for colonization and industry, Tripoli would have been an acquisition. Caravan routes to the interior already exist, and except the risk of opposition from France there was nothing to prevent a trading settlement of much importance there. At present the jealousy of France has been aroused, men and money have been wasted at Massowah, and nothing is gained. One false step leads to others, and this new expedition to Abyssinia looks a very hazardous business.

LONDON LETTER.

(From our own Correspondent.)

MR. W. H. SMITH AND THE CITY. LAST NIGHT'S BANQUET.

The merchants, bankers, and men of business, of the City of London expressed their appreciation of the manner in which Mr. W. H. Smith, First Lord of the Treasury, has conducted the business of the House of Commons, "in most trying and difficult circumstances." by entertaining him at a banquet last evening in the Merchant Taylors' Hall, Thread-needle-street. The Lord Chancellor, Viscount Cranbrook, Lord Ashbourne, Earl Cadogan, Mr. Balfour, M. P., Sir A. Clarke, and Sir J Gorst were among the first Lord of the Treasury's colleagues in the Government who were invited to take part in the proceedings. Mr. H. H. Gibbs, Director of the Bank of England, presided. The Earl of Rosse, Lord Cheylesmore, Viscount Wolseley, Sir R. Fowler, M. P., Sir J. W. Ellis, M. P., Sir E. B. Hamley, M. P., Mr. Kimber, M.P., M. Baring, M. P., Colonel Laurie, M. P., and M. Seymour King, M. P., showed by their presence the value attached by non-official politicians to the services of Mr. W. Smith. Among the other persons by whom the compliment was directly paid were not a few whose names are associated with most important financial and commercial undertakings. Nearly all the City Companies were represented, either by members or, more usually, by Masters. The banking interest, too, was largely represented, Mr. H. R. Grenfell and other Directors of the Bank of England having the support of Mr. Wade, Chairman of the National Provincial Bank of England, Sir A. Lusk, Chairman of the Imperial Bank, Mr. W. Holland of the London and Westminster Bank, Mr. H. G. Hoare, Mr. H. Goschen, and many others.

I have borrowed an ordinary newspaper heading with a full list of names, because to my mind the banquet given to Mr. W. H. Smith by the representatives of law, order and commerce is no common occurrence.

It represents the protest of the staid Anglo-Saxon mind against the vagaries of imagination and sentiment. The respectable, clean-shaven, well-washed, well-fed bankers and merchants seem to remind us that after a hundred years of revolutions, republics, monarchies and communes, we are just as we were. The world has only two political divisions, the leather-heads and the feather-heads, and leather they say wins. "We have tried", they tell us, "your Gladstones and Gambettas;" we prefer Mr. Smith. He is reliable. The bankers and merchants have only a hazy notion as to what a "statesman" may mean. What they want are clerks. Mr. W. H. Smith suits them in that capacity. The lords of the soil unite with the magnates of finance. Temple Bar is gone. The west eats in the city, not as a condescension and annual tribute to vulgar municipal self-importance, but as a guest honoured by the privilege and as a companion and equal in a common cause. The "classes" are beginning to huddle for mutual protection. Small party differences are at an end. There is no essential distinction now between a duke and a rich director. "L'argent oblige." Rank and wealth unite willingly in presenting Mr. W. H. Smith with a testimonial. Mr. Smith replies in the language of a faithful clerk. "God knows" he says "how I came to be first lord of the Treasury." He had never sought office and honour. He had passed 50 years of his life in work, half of it in the cultivation and forwarding of his own interests, and the latter half of it in the service of his country." That is, half of his life in forwarding newspapers and the other half in reading them; or half his life in getting the means of enjoyment, and half of it in enjoyment. A homely and excellent rule of conduct for average minds. But it does not seem to have occurred to Mr. Smith and his friends, that statesmen, like poets, are born, not made. Government by retired middle-aged business men may be a mistaken ideal, and after all an unpractical conception. There is much in the present constitution of the British House of Commons, and in the tone of our existing legislation, which proves the city ideal to be mistaken. Even the hour chosen for the apotheosis of the plain practical English intellect at the banquet in Merchant Taylors' Hall was singularly ill-timed. Mr. Smith's "old friend" Mr. Walter was not there. Mr. Soames was not there. Mr. Pigott ..... Yes he was there, and the Banquo of the feast. When Mr. Balfour rose to extol the Smithisimus and congratulate himself as Irish Secretary that the salt of the earth, the bankers and merchants of London, who had a real stake in the prosperity of the country, approved his Government of the Irish, his evictions, his "Maiden"—a new battering-ram—his coercion measures—I say that the clever and metaphysical Mr. Balfour in addressing his audience, knew that he addressed them in a state of unconscious cerebration, with one-half only of his dual mind, whilst the other half was fixed on the wan and aged face and bleeding temple of an apparition. "Avaunt!" says Balfour, "did I not tell the Times not to be deceived by thee? Did I not tell Smith that he was an old ——". Never mind, Mr. Balfour, never mind. We know all about it. The business intellect in crucial moments does fail. Mr. Morley may rally you about your "maiden", but he knows and we all know that at the eleventh hour you repent. In the very speech you made at the Merchant Taylor's Hall you went out of your way to compliment the Irish phlanx in the House of Commons. You stick to your flag, you run to Birmingham to heal the serious division in that city between the Tories and the Liberal Unionists, you quicken the sullen stupidity of a Hartington, you flatter leather-headed bankers and merchants, you pander to the calumnious venom of your uncle, Lord Salisbury, but you are too young and sharp-witted not to see that the game is up. You are retiring from your policy of coercion, which is dead. Sir Charles Russell is slaying it piecemeal in the Law Courts. With your logical Scotch mind, you could not even refer to poor Mr. Smith's eulogium on his own "sense of duty" without delicately sneering at the "after dinner" platitude. You know that gaolers, executioners and torturers have their sense of duty, and for so much as it is worth apart from their offices we honour it. Is it not written in Mr. Froude's new novel, the scene of which is laid in Ireland in the 17th century, that the stern, and in his way noble, Saxon, Colonel Goring, was filled with his sense of duty as tyrant and gaoler, whilst the young Celt, Morty, with only a sense of honour and a love of pleasure ended in being a murderer! Of these characters, which do you prefer, Mr. Balfour? With all your university cubbism and English varnish, you are nearer to Morty than to Colonel Goring. You know that as a Scot you are a Home Ruler. Every Scotchman is who is not a snivelling laird thinking that the splendour of Anglo-Norman traditions adds a glamour to his own shanty and patch of brown heather. You know that Lord Randolph, whom you hate, is getting to the windward of you. You are longing to throw off the trammels of English doublet and hose, and fight in your own native fashion. The impasse of political parties in England to day is a torture to you. Arthur James Balfour, your panegyric on the Smiths and Smithism is a lie. As likely as not you will in good time be a leader of the radical democracy.

Railway Items.

THE SAN BLAS RAILWAY—OPENING OF TENDERS FOR THE GRAND CENTRAL TERMINUS—ITEMS FROM THE GOVERNMENT OFFICES—THE CASTRO-PETTY CONCESSION.

Messrs. Kincaid, Costa and Co.'s scheme for a 5 o/o guarantee railway from San Blas to Patagones and Nahuel-Huapi was presented to Congress yesterday. This project was presented last year and is now renewed, and will probably be favourably considered this time by Congress. The line would have an extent of over 1000 kilometres, and be divided into two sections. The importance of opening up the Rio Negro valley is now so evident that we should not be surprised to see a dozen railway projects presented for the far south.

Yesterday the Home Minister opened the bids, or rather the bid, for there was only one presented, for the construction of the Grand Central Terminus. Messrs. Madero and Co. are the sole applicants; they have deposited a guarantee of $50,000 and offer to do the work for the sum stipulated, $4,999,000 gold.

The North Santa Fe Railway Company has informed the Government that it has purchased Messrs. J. G. Meiggs Son and Co's concession for a railway from Nanducito to Presidencia Roca.

Mr. James Temple, who holds a concession for a line from this city to Rosario, maintains his right to the State-lands between the Arroyo Maldonado and the Central Station, which lands are included in the contract of Messrs. Portalis Freres Carbonnier and Co.

The Meincke and Methven projects were presented to Congress yesterday.

We clip the following interesting item from the Montevideo River Plate Times:—

This new railway scheme, projected by Messrs. Castro, Petty and Co., has been occupying the attention of Government lately.

The extent of this line will be 550 kilos, running right across the country from Colonia on the South-west to the Camino de Bagé on the frontiers of Brazil at the North-east.

It is to be divided into three sections, the first from Colonia by Trinidad to Durazno, the second from Durazno to the Yi Points or Cerro-Chato, touching the North Eastern Railway, and the third will reach the Brazilian frontier in the direction of the Camino Bagé.

The petition having been presented to the General Council of Public Works to be reported upon, the Council proposed before entering upon the technical examination, to discuss whether or not there was any particular usé of establishing a transversal railway from Colonia, and when established if it would not prejudice the State by competing with other lines guaranteed by the State.

After numberless considerations the Council opined that the projected line would be of general utility, and that it was probable that the working of the first section, between Colonia and Durazno, would not fall heavily on the State, or at least if the guarantee have to be paid it will only be to a reduced extent and for a few years.

As regards the parts of the line included in the general tracings studied by the Public Powers, the Council believes that though there is no objection to the conceding the faculty solicited of prolonging the line to the frontier of Brazil, it will be "always and whenever the State finds it convenient to extend the guarantee in favour of the second section and without prejudice to that faculty being limited to the prolongation to the point of section with the North Eastern line, if the tracing of the latter should be definitively sanctioned."

In its turn the Committee of Fomento of the Chamber of Representatives assisted by the technical report of the Council of Public Works gave a decision favourable to the concession indicated under the following conditions:

The Company will present the definitive studies of this railway within the term of 18 months from the date of the concession.

As soon as these studies are made and approved and the concession granted, the Company must finish and open to public service the first section of the railway from Colonia to Durazno in the term of three years and the other two sections between Durazno and the frontier in the four following years.

The State will guarantee the contractors 6 o/o interest per annum on the capital sunk in the construction of this railway at the price of £5000 per kilometre.

The concessionaires are authorized to construct in the port of Colonia on land belonging to themselves the wharves and deposits required by the line. They may when necessary use the streets of the towns and cities through which the line passes, for the tracing of the line gratis. The tariff to be fixed by them in agreement with the State. The cost of the transport of materials not to be considered as receipts of the company as regards the guarantees and finally that the Company at its own cost will found an agricultural colony of no less than 5 square leagues on the 2nd section of the line from Durazno to Cerro Chato..

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The fun begins to-day. Whoever wants to see it must make his way to the South Dock immediately after an early breakfast. It will be a fine sight of ships, and troops flags, music and the great ones of the land' if the weather do not spoil it, which looked most unpleasantly probable yesterday evening.

A curious bit of news came from Montevideo last evening—the disappearance of two of the late General Santos's sons—aged 12 and 14—from the family residence in Montevideo. It is thought the boys have merely gone to the Colorado estancia for a lark, but it may be otherwise.

President Tajes left Montevideo yesterday evening at 4 p.m. in the Venus. All the vessels in the roads showed flags and saluted.

The meeting of estancieros to consider the question of the Contribution Tax came off last evening in the rooms of the Rural Society. Amongst those present were Messrs. D. Shaw, J. Moore, T. Ham, J. O'Farrell, del Carril, D. Merlo, J. Malcolm, M. Plaza Montero, N. Louve and about sixty other well-known gentlemen. The following resolutions were passed:

"That a petition be presented to the La Plata Central Jury, of which the Finance Minister is president, that an abatement be made as recommended by the local juries.

"That the Committee stir up the Province to urge the Chambers to modify the first article of the law, so that the tax be levied not on the property but on what the property yields (a course we pointed out as most advisable some time ago).

"That the tax be reduced from 5 to 3 per mil."

All unanimously carried.

We are sure the whole Province will rise like a man to back up the Committee.

The order of precedence to-day at President Tajes's reception will be on leaving Government House—

1. President of Republic.
2. Cabinet Ministers.
3. Diplomatic Corps.
4. Members of Congress
5. " Supreme Court.
6. Governors of Provinces.
7. Lieutenant Generals.
8. Generals.
9. Colonels.
10. Judges.
11. High Civil Functionaries.
12. Heads of Departments.

Mr. A. Mantels and all the other members of the Commerce Committee have been specially invited by the Finance Minister.

Don Samuel Navarro, Chief of the Immigration Office, is to be "jubilated." The Senate will be asked to put him on the Pension list, and will, no doubt do so.

The Mayor of Azul and three distinguished doctors of that town are in custody at La Plata on charges brought against them by the municipality of the former place. Rather a queer affair this.

Thanks to the bursting of a water pipe in some part of town on Tuesday night the electric light in the Opera House died out, and the fashionable audience had to go home as the performance was postponed. The ladies were awfully angry at having to re-enter their carriages, and many of them, especially in the "cazuela" gave a good bit of their mind all round "pro bono publico". Many of the audience thought that the mishap must have had some connection with the report of Engineers Blot and Cagnoni as to the insecurity of the big water tank on the top the of theatre.

Herr Thadeu Schulz, a young violinist of fame in Europe, has just arrived from Rio Janeiro, where he achieved great success by his masterly playing. He intends giviug a few concerts here, and they will be announced in due course.

More outlandish advertizing! Messrs Amia and Co want space in the public plazas for captive balloons on which advertizements will be painted or pasted. As the balloons are to be 500 feet up in the air, it is to be hoped that Messrs Amis will supply at least their wide circle of friends with telescopes to read them. The whole thing is an idiotic farce; but shows the ridiculous lengths to which the enterprise of our cosmopolitan inhabitants sometimes goes.

A big smuggling case is causing a powwow in Rosario. The steamer Nevara was entered as cleared for Montevideo in ballast, but this ballast subsequently turned out to be a valuable cargo of pea-nuts.

An awful murder was reported in Montevideo yesterday. A man found in his lodgings hacked and stabbed to death and his corpse set fire to! His wife and an accomplice are suspected, as some time ago they attempted to poison the victim.

Life has become so monstrously dear in Washington that the Senators of the Nation cannot get along on their salary of $5000 a year, and want it raised to $10,000. Our Senators here manage to get along pretty well on their little emoluments.

No more sickness. An Inspector General of Health for the whole republic is to be appointed immediately. He wont have much spare time on his hands, or feet either, as he will require to keep moving rather briskly.

The irrepressible ball. A "Frontou Provincial" will be opened to-morrow in La Plata, with lots of music, and we suppose some cakes and ale, or what does duty in this festive country for those old-time British refreshments.

The Lord Mayor is doing his best to cheapen the bread and meat of the citiz

The "pro forma" legal first meeting of the new English Bank to be started in Buenos Aires was held in London last month. The name of the bank, in order to avoid colliding with other banks, has been changed to the Anglo-Argentine Bank. The manager in Buenos Aires is Mr. Mullins, and the present paid-up capital has been temporarily invested in bonds. It was stated at the meeting that the Mansion premises had been secured, but that in Buenos Aires have been got yet, but that when the bank begins working a call will be made on the shareholders. We fear the directors will find no difficulty in getting good central premises; possibly if Mr. Bunge, the banker, were to see Mr. Tornquist, of the Banco de Comercio, he might be able to arrange for the present banking premises of the bank, as the new offices of the Banco de Comercio will soon be ready at the corner of Piedad and San Martin.

—¡Colosal Remate!—
Los dias 30 de Mayo y 2 de Junio.
A las 12 en punto
Sobre los mismos terrenos
(Antiguo Estacion Ferral, F. C. del Sud
El pueblo de Brandzen en venta!
Lo que nunca se ha visto!
326 solares, 40 quintas y medias chacras 34 chacras y una fraccion de Estancia
CON POBLACIONES.
Para todos los gustos y todas las fortunas.
¡Atencion!
EN LOS DIAS
30 de Mayo y 2 de Junio
A LAS 12 DEL DIA

Procederemos a vender en remate publico y en los mismos terrenos, el numero de solares, quintas, y chacras que se dejan espresadas, que constituyen el famoso campo que fue de doña Maria Faulkes, hoy del Consejo General de Educacion de la Provincia.—Por orden judicial dictada en el juicio sobre cesacion de condominio seguido por el Consejo General de Educacion de la Provincia.

Este campo que constituye ejido del pueblo de Brandzen, se reputa:—El mejor partido, el mejor del Sud, el mejor de la Provincia.

El que lo conozca, admirará esto sin reserva; y el que no lo conozca, que se infórme y confirmará la aseveracion.

Se encuentra cortado por dos vias ferreas, la del Sud y la de La Plata, se halla trazada otra para el Monte; se proyecta un mercado de frutos, un tramway a Chascomus y se establecera alli la estacion principal de la empresa que ha presentado al superior Gobierno el proyecto de una red de ferro-carriles de la Provincia. Hecho esto Brandzen tendra como ningun partido, cuatro vias ferreas y un tramway. Fijarse: Cada comprador sera dueño de dar a su terreno el destino que desee, pues esta operacion no esta sometida a las condiciones con que el Gobierno vende los terrenos de ejido. Grandes ventajas—La venta se efectuara: una tercera parte al contado y las dos restantes a plazos de 3, 6 9 y 12 meses con la guarantia hipotecario del mismo terreno y con el interes de ocho por ciento anual; cuya hipoteca podra cancelarse antes de su vencimiento si los compradores lo pidieren, pudiendo sustituirse por otra de mas largos plazos en los Bancos Hipotecarios de la Provincia o la Nacion.

Observar—Que el pueblo de Brandzen segun el mapa del Estado Mayor del Ejercito Nacional se encuentra situano a doce leguas y fraccion de kilometros de la Capital Federal, o sea una distancia igual que la ciudad de La Plata. Este campo esta senalado para la agricultura, tambos, pastoreo de invernada y establecimientos industriales. Por lo espuesto puede afirmarse que Brandzen es y sera una situacion industrial y comercialmente Estrategica. Este es un hecho real y evidente que puede palpar todo el que entienda de negocios. Tasaciones baisimas. Los solares se encuentran tasados a cinco, nueve, quince, veinte y veinticinco centavos el metro cuadrado, Las quintas y medias chacras a 400 y 600 pesos m/n la hectarea. Las chacras a 200, 250, 350 y 400 la hectarea, Y la fraccion de Estancia con edificios a cuatrocientos pesos la hectarea. Las dimensiones de los solares, quintas y chacras constan de los planos que los interesados podran pedir en nuestra casa de remates y en los demas puntos Pos que mas adelante Indicaremos,

Para esta grandiosa venta: Tomaremos como base las dos terceras partes de las tasaciones respectivas de donde resulta que se vendera tirado y escepcionalmente barato, siendo la venta forzosa por tener que liquidarse el condominio.

Advertencias — Devidamente autorizados exijiremos al firmarse el boleto el diez por ciento en seña a todos los compradores adquiriendo giros contra Bancos. No habra escepciones. Caso de lluvia se transferira el remate para el dia de fiesta siguiente.

Por referencias y planos ocurrase en La Plata, ncasa Avenida 7 entre 49 y 50, Juan A. Carbonell y Cia. B. Aires. estudio del Dr. Luis F. Pintos. Rivadavia 515 npn. Brandzen, oficina del Escribano D. Rufino M. Martinez, quien autorizara todas las escrituras. Los interesados pueden tomar los dias 30 de Mayo y 2 de Junio en la capital tren que sale a las 7.50 y 8 20 ds la Estacion Constitucion y de La Plata el que sale a las 7.35 a.m.

Escusamos decir que los titulos son garantidos porque los que nos conocen deben tener la segarid ad que al encargarnos de esta operacion hemos revisado todos los documentos. 191 m8 jn2

MINISTERIO DEL INTERIOR

Habiendo dejado sin efecto la licitacion a que se llamo por aviso del 9 de Enero pasado para la terminacion de las obras del Riachuelo, por no haberse llenado los requisitos exigidos por la ley, llamase a nuevas propuestas por el termino de 30 dias para la terminacion de dichas obras con sujecion al proyecto definitivo de las mismas que podran consultar los interesados desde la fecha en el Departamento de Obras Publicas, y en la Secretaria de la Comisaria Administradora de dichas obras.

Las bases a que deben sujetarse los proponentes, ademas de las ya establecidas, son las siguientes:

1° En las propuestas debera fijarse un plazo aproximativo para la terminacion de las obras.

2° La expropiacion de los terrenos que fueren necesarios sera por cuenta de los proponentes.

3° Los precios de las obras seran unitarios—El pago se verificara en virtud de certificados mensuales que formulara el contratista de acuerdo con el Inspector tecnico nacional de las obras que el gobierno nombre y que dependera del departamento de obras publicas.

It seems, in view of the present state of the National Bank Shares speculation, that the bears have again proved themselves stronger than the bulls, in spite of the moral assistance lent the latter by the timely appearance of the Varela decrees. The shares tumbled at the first hour from 255 to 252, closing weak, and a further fall is considered imminent and inevitable, as it is said that the late buyers have now turned round on one instead of taking up the shares. This means a repetition of the previous months' liquidations; parties turning up at the last hour with thousands of shares and realizing at a loss. Brokers still believe in lower quotations for this stock and the outside market is higher; which will prove correct remains to be seen, but present appearances seem to favour the former. The boom in La Plata Mole shares continued to-day, the shares bounding up to 160.50 for end of month and closing at 156, though there are no sellers at this rate, or even two points higher; the rumour of the sale of the whole concern is insisted upon and believed by many, but whether it be true or not, the "corner" in the stock is palpable, and even higher quotations may be expected. Credito Real and Constructors were firm at the current rates. Obligations changed hands at 13.50 for cash. General Pobladora Shares were done at 128 for cash and 132 for end of June, and Cedulas were fairly dealt in at current rates. The Provincial N series dropped away to 75.90, but finally closed at 76.

Exchange is reported very firm, and at 47¼ there are few or no takers, this being the rate offered. Francs are quoted 4.97 on Paris, and 4.98 on Antwerp.

Mr. Baker, United States Consul in this city, has sent to the U.S. Government a most exhaustive report on this country, and we give in another column extracts from this remarkable report, which, under date February 16th, 1889, is printed and published by the Department of State. We compliment Mr. Baker on his great industry and the exactness of his report.

Already they have begun putting in the large iron safes in the building of the Banco de Comercio at the corner of Piedad and San Martin. These safes are not for the bank, but for the "safe deposit" which the bank is establishing in this building. This is a new step in this market, and it may, as in London and in New York, prove a great success. But we note that the company started by Mr. Cole, and which has purchased the splendid site of the old National Bank building, corner of Piedad and Reconquista, also intends to supply a large "safe deposit" on the London and New York style. Thus our market, which as yet is very young, may have too many safes and deposits for its requirements. In the former days of the Bolsa such deposits might find customers, but to-day three-quarters of the ring people on 'Change have the appearance of an Othello without occupation. Safes superabound in this market; we confess to having two that look monstrously business-like; one, however, is filled with old files of the Standard and an old white hat 13 years old; and perhaps many, if the truth were known, are in the same boat.

Does any one want to sell or rent a house for a bank? We hear there are three rich customers in the market with lots of money, but banking sites in Buenos Ayres are scarcer to-day than money.

Mr. Seitun, the great Cedula man, we hear, has made a large sale of National gold Cedulas series A with October coupon at reserved price which we believe is 91, or 92. This gold stock is in great demand as the news is the last sale in London was done at par. Mr. Seitun is the largest cedula holder in this market, and the proposed law of Mr. Varela changing the paper Cedulas into gold will give him a fortune. They say that in these days he will address a letter under his own signature to the Minister of Hacienda, Mr. Varela, on the Cedula question.

In the event of Minister Varela's project about the private banks being carried out, all those private banks started on paper capital will be in a fix to come under the law, as they will be obliged to raise a gold capital to buy the gold to deposit in the National Treasury. Of course, for foreign banks doing business in this market it will cause no trouble, since they only have to employ a portion of their capital in the purchase of 4½ per cent gold bonds. It seems that banks under the Free Banking law have only to publish monthly balances, whilst banks that do not come under the law will have to send in their balances every 15 days. It is clear to everyone that when the project becomes law no private bank can carry on business in this market if it does not come under the Free Banking law.

The "interpelacion" of Minister Varela in the house of Deputies came off to-day. The house was unusually crowded. Deputy Portela spoke well for about half an hour, and said that he hoped to see one hundred private banks such as the London and River Plate and Banco de Italia banks, and such 'pasadores' as Malmann and Tornquist in this market. Minister Varela refuted all Mr. Portelas arguments and was loudly applauded. The whole affair ended in nothing.

To-morrow is the last day for the Railway Companies to change the kerosene lamps for safer lights. The daily fine of 200 Nats. begins on the following day.

Brokers report very little doing in the produce markets, as arrivals are very meagre. Prices are firm.

A large number of estancieros arrived in town to-day to attend the meeting at the Rural Society's rooms to-day. As is well known, the meeting has been convened to consider the most effective measures for combating the break-neck pace at which the Contribucion Directa taxes are advanced year in and year out, and estancieros are now thoroughly alive to the fact that a determined stand must be made.

The sale was effected to-day of 250 Mercado de Frutos Shares at 120, the share being fully paid up and in gold. This shews the estimation this valuable concern is earning in a market surfeited with stocks.

The first question almost asked daily now is the state of the gold premium, as it has been so steadily advancing lately that parties are beginning to be apprehensive that it will soon reach 160 again. In the morning gold was quoted at 159, which remained more or less the figure for the day, although the closing price was some 2o or 30 cents higher.

Business at the second hour was most important, as shewing how the market is shaping for the liquidation, which is already beginning to cast its shadow before. National Bank shares opened at 251 dropped to 250 and closed ½ point higher for end month; for end June the tendency was even weaker, the rate dropping from 255 to 254. General Pobladora Shares soared up from 132 to 155, which astounded the whole market, and nobody knew what was up, the parties in the secret evidently being desirous to keep the matter very quiet. La Plata Moles seemed to settle down, closing at 155 for end of month and 159 for end of June. Credito Real and Constructors still keep firm and with a rising tendency. In Cedulas the National Series came in for most recognition, two large lots of D and E being sold, the former for cash and latter for end of month at firm rates. There is brisk demand for all National Series, but Provincial kinds are dull and flat.

The National Bank to-day sold 83,034 dollars at rates ranging from 158.50 to 158.80 per cent.

A syndicate of capitalists have proposed to the Rosario Corporation to build a sumptuous market, with the latest improvements, on the site of the present South Market, which they venture to hope will be ceded to them gratis. In return, besides a yearly rent, the syndicate will hand the whole concern, which is to cost no less than 500,000 nats., over to the Corporation on the expiry of 20 years.

News from the Mount reports that the Rivas and Pineyrua camps in Payasandu have been sold to an Argentine Syndicate at 40,000 dollars gold the 'suerte'. The purchasers intend to put the lands under tillage, for which they are admirably suited.

We take the following from a late exchange: "The Argentine Refinery Company (Argentine National Government Guarantee.)—The share capital is divided into—Preference shares, $500,000 gold, equal to about £100,000; ordinary shares, $1,000,000 gold, equal to about £200,000; making the total shares, $1,500,000 gold, equal to about £300,000. Issue of £125,000 5 per cent. mortgage debentures in 1,250 debentures of £100 each, bearing interest at 5 per cent. per annum, secured by a first mortgage on the Argentine National Government Guarantee, and on the land factory, and works of the company. In order to secure this trade for the home producers a guarantee has been granted by the National Government of $56,000 gold, equal to about £11,111 2s. 2d per annum, for 15 years, for the establishment of a refinery, on the best European models, for the production of a refined sugar, equal to that now imported, and this company has been formed by a strong body of local capitalists interested in the native sugar trade for carrying out the concession. Mr. Ernest Tornquist, of Buenos Ayres, is the chairman of the company. Rosario has been selected as the best and most central position for the works, which are on the river bank. After exhaustive enquiries made in Europe as to working expenses, and taking into account the current price of the raw material, and the selling price of refined sugar in the Argentine Republic, Messrs. E. Tornquist & Co., estimate that the factory will be capable of refining 50000 kilos per day, and will yield a profit of about £100,000 per annum.

The meeting of the British Immigration Committee at Messrs. Hale & Co.'s offices on Monday was fairly well attended, but it was not until late in the evening that business began, owing to the unavoidable absence of Dr. O'Farrell, informing member of the special committee named to draw up the rules and regulations of the permanent society. These, being read over, were discussed seriatim, and so well was the work done that but little correction or amendment was necessary. Mr. Jenner, H.B.M.'s Chargé, announced that he had received a telegram from Lord Salisbury, expressing his most cordial thanks to the ladies and gentlemen who had so nobly laboured for the safety and welfare of the British emigrants per s.s. Dresden. The monthly subscription was set down at a National dollar. A committee of 18 was named with power to appoint agents throughout the country. The Right Revd. Bishop of the Falkland Islands promised that Mrs. Stirling would act on the ladies' committee, after which the meeting dissolved. The thanks of the public are due to Miss Browne for a package of old clothes for the colonists at Naposta; also a medicine chest from Mr. E. Crauwell, of Calle Victoria, and last, but not least, a gift of 10 mn from Rev. Mr. Pelham Ogle for the poor orphan children wounded and destitute through the sad gun accident last month.

The following is a list of exports from the port of Buenos Aires from May 1st to May 15th:—

23,823 salted cow-hides
19,310 salted horse-hides
18,146 dry cow-hides

936 boxes tallow
18,959 bales jerked beef
7,553 carcases frozen mutton
57,194 horns
771,884 kilos bones and bone-ash

The s.s. Newton, Lamport & Holt, arrived in Montevideo to-day with Liverpool dates to 26th April and 5,900 tons cargo.

As a sample of how our immigration returns are swelling, it is a refreshing sign to see that the Plate is already ahead of the United States in this line, having received 15,000 more immigrants than the States during the first quarter of this year. Of course the Plate is still far behind the States in its past records.

The s.s. Costa Rican, Lamport & Holt liner, cleared to-day with the following list of passengers:—

Mr Hotham, Mr Ad. Wentzeler, Mr and Mrs Fletcher, Mr Hotham, two children and nurse, Mrs Thicke and child, Mr John E Jones, Mr Sam Dalton, Mr N Leach, Mr W Wythes, Mr Middleton, Mr and Mrs Warren and two children, Miss Oswald, Master G O'Dwyer, Mr Yorksten, Mr W H Mackinden, Mr P Bullot, Mrs Sloane and child, Mr Claren, Mr T Classen, Mr Tea, Mr Trail, Mrs Quirk, Fred and Arthur Quirk, Mrs and Miss Tea, Mrs Leach two children and nurse, Mrs Taylor and child, Mr Hy Bordier, Mr Craufurd, Mr Dyson.

Dr. J. Collis Browne's

CHLORODYNE.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY GENUINE

Advice to Invalids.—If you wish to obtain quiet refreshing sleep, free from headache, relief from pain and and anguish, to calm and assuage the weary achings of protracted disease, invigorate the nervous media and regulate the circulating systems of the body, you will provide yourself with that marvellous remedy discovered by D. J. Collis Brown, (late Army Medical Staff), to which he gave the name of CHLORODYNE, and which is admitted by the profession to be the most wonderful and valuable remedy ever discovered.

CHLORODYNE is the best remedy known for Coughs, Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma.

CHLORODYNE acts like a charm in Diarrhœa, and is the only specific in Cholera and Dysentery.

CHLORODYNE effectually cuts short all attacks of Epilepsy, Hysteria, Palpitation, and Spasms.

CHLORODYNE is the only palliative in Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Cancer, Toothache, Meningitis, &c.

From Symes & Co., Pharmaceutical Chemists, Medical Hall, Simla, January 5, 1880. To J. T. Davenport, Esq., 33, Great Russel Street, Bloomsbury, London! Dear Sir,—We embrace this opportunity of congratulating you upon the widespread reputation this justly esteemed medicine, Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne, has earned for itself, not only in Hindostan but all over the East. As a remedy for general utility, we must question whether a better is imported into the country, and we shall be glad to hear of its finding a place in every Anglo-Indian home. The other brands we are so sorry to say, are now relegated to the native bazaars, and, judging from their sale, we fancy their sojourn there will be but evanescent. We could multiply instances "ad infinitum" of the extraordinary efficacy of Dr. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne in Diarrhœa and Dysentery, Spasms, Cramps, Neuralgia, the Vomiting of Pregnancy, and as a sedative that have occurred under our personal observation during years. In Choleraic Diarrhœa, and even in the more terrible forms of Himself, we have witnessed its surprisingly controlling power. We have not had any other form of this medicine than Collis Browne's from a conviction that it is decidedly the best, and also from a sense of duty we owe to the profession and the public, as we are of opinion that the substitution of other than Collis Browne's is a deliberate Breach of Faith on the part of the chemist to prescribe and Patient alike. We are, Sir, faithfully yours, Duncan Flockhart & Co., Members of the Pharm. Society of Great Britain. To Messrs. Davenport's Chemists.

The Late Chief Justice Sir W. Page Wood stated that Dr J. Collis Browne, the inventor of Chlorodine; that the story of the defendant was true, which he regretted to say, had been sworn to in 1864.

Sold in 2s. 9d., 4s. 6d., and 11s. each. None is genuine without "Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne" on the Government stamp. Sole manufacturers of the accompanies each bottle.

Beware of imitations.
